DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-23 allowed. The closest prior art of record, i.e. Childers et. al., U.S.P. No. 6,540,410 teaches an optical fiber connector (described below). Neither Childers et. al. or any of the other references of record teaches or suggests the optical fiber connector recited in claim 9 including the recited elements of a housing with spring element seat, a ferrule, an optical fiber stub placed in a ferrule passageway, a ferrule holder, a spring element, first and second splice members, spring element retainer and a cam element (See claim 9 for the specific structural details). Dependent claims 10-23 includes the limitations of claim 9 along with additionally recited limitations (see dependent claims 20-23 for additional limitations).

Claims 3,4, and 6-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Neither Childers et. al. 410' or any of the prior art of record teaches or suggests a predetermined spring force is greater than about 1lb or 1.1lb and 1.4lbs, a view port for providing a visual indication of the quality of a splice including the limitations of claims 5 and 1 and a cam member disposed about the ferrule holder used in conjunction with a first and second splice member.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2883

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 24-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese Patent No.9-197157.

Japanese Patent No. 9-197157 teaches (Figs.1-8) an optical fiber connector structure 1 for connecting optical fibers 7 in a holder or body 4 for connecting other optical fibers or fiber stubs and a view port(s) 16,17,18 which the quality of the splice can be viewed giving a visual indicator when light from a laser or LED is passed through the splice, which clearly fully meets Applicant's claimed limitations.

Claims 1,2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Childers et. al., U.S.P. No. 6,540,410.

Art Unit: 2883

Childers et. al. 410' teaches (Figs.1-6) an optical fiber connector comprising: a housing 22 with a cavity into which is placed a spring element 28 and spring element seat 30,31 and a ferrule 34, ferrule spring 38 and ferrule holder 40 all of which are inserted into the housing 22, which clearly, fully meets Applicant's claimed limitations.

A copy of PTO-1449 will be included in this office action.

The following references are also cited as being pertinent prior art: Cubukciyan et. al., U.S.P. No. 5,101,463 (Figs.1-6), Cheng, U.S.P. No. 6,783,281 (Figs.1-8), and Clairardin et. al., U.S.P. No. 5,915,058 (Figs.1-39).
